ADD ON COURSE: Basic concepts of economics

Unit 1

Economics is defined as a technique of a tool of balancing most of the needs which can be termed as a credit and the limited resources, which can be termed as a debit. Keeping a proper and healthy balance between these two terms is nothing but economics It is one of the Economics basic definitions Apart from this, we have different basic definitions of Economics there, based on the scenario. Before going to the fundamentals of economics, it has two streams. Namely macroeconomics and microeconomics

Unit 2 and Unit 3

Supply and Demand It is one of the basic economic concepts and theories. Supply and demand can be seen everywhere in our daily life. To understand this concept more clearly, let's take a common example like food products. If we take food and drinks, they need to travel from the farmer to the consumer with multiple mediators. So, the price may vary. The price of a particular product depends upon the supply and demand of that product
