Department of Psychology

Report of Seminar

Under the guidance of Principal Dr. Deepak H Joshi Sir, a online seminar was organized for the students on 12/07/2020 on the topic "Significance of Psychology in the 21st Century". In which Naveen Patel sir and Dinesh Panchal sir gave very useful information to the students about the importance of Psychology. Science is constantly changing. If one hopes to keep pace with advances in science, one cannot simply repeat what one has done in the past, whether deciding how to invest limited research funds, searching to replace a retiring colleague, or teaching introductory psychology. Psychological science in the 21st century is more central and integrated than it was in the 20th century; yet, these changes are not always reflected in introductory Psychology. Psychology is the study of mind and behavior Its subject matter includes the behavior of humans and nonhumans, both conscious and unconscious phenomena, and mental processes such as thoughts, feelings, and motives. Psychology is an academic discipline of immense scope, crossing the boundaries between the natural and social sciences. Biological psychologists seek an understanding of the emergent properties of brains, linking the discipline to neuroscience. As social scientists, psychologists aim to understand the behavior of individuals and groups.

Many students participated in it. Psychology helps people in large part because it can explain why people act the way they do. With this kind of professional insight, a Psychologist can help people improve their decision making, stress management and behavior based on understanding past behavior to better predict future behavior. That's why we liked this topic for the seminar. And after completion of the seminar, the student got the satisfaction that he would be able to make his future in the field of Psychology.
