Report

Event: Female Infanticide - A Social Issue

Date: 08-12-2022

Time: 12:00 PM to 2:00 PM

Location: Room No.-05

Organized by: Department of Home Science

The Department of Home Science, under the leadership of Puspaben Garasia, successfully organized a one-day seminar titled "Female Infanticide - A Social Issue" on 08-12-2022. The seminar aimed to address the critical social issue of female infanticide, focusing on raising awareness and fostering constructive discussions. The event featured a series of insightful presentations and interactive discussions led by experts in the field, who provided a comprehensive overview of the causes, consequences, and potential solutions to combat female infanticide. The seminar served as a platform for students and faculty to engage in meaningful dialogue, share their perspectives, and explore actionable strategies to eliminate this social evil.

Highlights of the seminar included a powerful opening speech by Puspaben Garasia, keynote presentations by field experts, and a panel discussion involving academics and social activists. The interactive session allowed attendees to ask questions and contribute their thoughts, leading to a dynamic exchange of ideas. The event concluded with a collective commitment from all participants to continue efforts towards eradicating female infanticide and promoting gender equality. The Department of Home Science expressed its gratitude to all speakers, participants, and organizers for their dedication and contributions, ensuring the seminar's success in addressing this urgent social issue.
