Minutes of the Meeting

Meeting Date: 22-12-2022 Place: Department of Home Science
PM

Time: 12:00 PM to 2:00

- Agenda: To organize Rangoli, Drawing, and Mehdi competitions.

Chairperson: Prof. Pushpaben Garasia

Committee Members: Dr. Manjulaben Solanki, Dr. Vandana Parmar

The Women Development Cell, in conjunction with the Department of Home Science, convened on December 22, 2022, to discuss the organization of Rangoli, Drawing, and Mehndi competitions. Chaired by Prof. Pushpaben Garasia, the meeting commenced with her welcoming remarks, setting a collaborative tone. The agenda was reviewed and unanimously accepted by the committee members, including Dr. Manjulaben Solanki and Dr. Vandana Parmar. Key decisions included scheduling the event for December 30, 2022, and confirming the Department of Home Science as the venue.

Specific roles were assigned to ensure the smooth execution of the competitions. Prof. Garasia would oversee the overall organization, ensuring alignment with the planned agenda. Dr. Solanki would manage registrations, participant communication, and coordination, while Dr. Parmar was tasked with arranging materials, setting up the venue, and handling on-site logistics. This division of responsibilities aimed to streamline operations and ensure each aspect of the event was meticulously managed.

Promotion strategies were also a focal point of the meeting. The committee decided to design and distribute posters, utilize social media platforms for broader outreach, and engage students and faculty through word-of-mouth. Judging criteria based on creativity, technique, and presentation were established, along with discussions on prizes, certificates, and incentives to boost participation. To ensure on going progress, action items were assigned to each committee member, with regular follow-up meetings planned to address any emerging issues.

Meeting Report

Competition Date: 30-12-2022

The Women Development Cell, in collaboration with the Department of Home Science, successfully organized Rangoli, Drawing, and Mehndi competitions on December 30, 2022. The event, held at the Department of Home Science, witnessed enthusiastic participation from students, showcasing their artistic talents in a vibrant and supportive environment. The competitions aimed to encourage creativity and cultural expression, aligning with the cell's mission to foster holistic development among students.

The event organization was seamless, thanks to the dedicated efforts of the committee members. Prof. Pushpaben Garasia oversaw the entire event, ensuring it ran smoothly and adhered to the planned agenda. Dr. Manjulaben Solanki efficiently managed registrations and participant communications, ensuring all participants were well-informed and prepared. Dr. Vandana Parmar skillfully handled the logistics, setting up the venue with all necessary materials and creating an inviting atmosphere for the competitors and spectators alike. The well-coordinated efforts of the team were evident in the event's success and the positive feedback received from participants and attendees.

Promotion strategies, including the distribution of posters and extensive use of social media, proved effective in drawing a significant number of participants and spectators. The judging criteria, focusing on creativity, technique, and presentation, were well-received and ensured a fair evaluation of all entries. Winners were awarded prizes and certificates, recognizing their exceptional talent and encouraging future participation. The event not only highlighted the students' artistic abilities but also strengthened community bonds within the institution, paving the way for similar initiatives in the future.
